Last week I started off with a double negative, ploughed through double martinis to a double entendre... Speaking of negatives did you see Shirlee Stoddard's pics of Gelett Burgess in the issue of Life magazine that featured Princess Elizabeth? Understand Shirlee is simmering over a new cook book - taking time out from her K-9 photography. Noticed in a picture of Princess Elizabeth that she was wearing a pair of Rayne shoes - H&M Rayne, Ltd., Ye olde Bond Street. Our family business has taken care of three generations of Royal soles. The Royal Couple's visit to Canada is making a lot of stores throughout the country frightfully British "don'tcherna." Remember a few years ago when Elizabeth's Pater and Mater came over here for a spot of tea - a Hollywood haberdasher with a Russian name draped the sidewalks with Union Jacks and assorted pictures of Winston Churchill, Queen Victoria and George Arliss as Disraeli (or Disraeli as George Arliss).

We have a visitor from a British Crown Colony here too - Lady Grantham, the wife of Sir Alexander Grantham, Governor of Hong Kong visiting her sister, Hallie Samson. Sir Alexander has followed the British sun from Bermuda to Hong Kong by way of Nigeria.

Hong Kong is on the road to Korea on the Mandalay side which reminds me - asked golf pro, Jack Morris, what's the best drive he has had on his Carmel Valley Driving Range - quipped Jack, "The Korean Relief Drive" - ask him to show you the pictures of those Korean Kids, it will help you to remember to follow thru...

If you wondered what the chaps in caps and Cashmeres were doing at the Pine Inn this week - they were the Chiselers - a golfing association here for a Stag Tournament. Don't ask me who they were chiselling..... I wouldn't know.

At the Crocodile's Tail Ralph and Betty back from Paraiso Springs - guess the water is always wetter on the other side of them thar hills. Monterey Realtor, George Dovolis, at the 'Croc'... George sub-dividing his time between Monterey and the Coast, seems he has clients from Honolulu interested in Big Sur area - anyone with "a little grass shack" take notice. Ralph got a long distance call from Carson City - a guy up there keeps forgetting how to do Ralph's balancing trick with the forks. He can't remember whether he has to use an empty bottle - by the time he has decided he forgets how many forks to use.

Department of Historical Markers Division of Bar Room walls - no it's not a new mural at Gallatins - it's where I left my mark. Saturday night the place is so popular that a little fellow like me soon gets flattened on the wall, or pushed into a potted palm.

Taxing our imagination - a lot of Carmelites are still half-centsitive about the new tax - they feel that those tourists won't buy their postcards and crumpets in Carmel anymore - maybe they'll all go to New York like Mike Gould, no wonder they call him Lucky Gould.

CARMEL'S NEW POSTOFFICE OPENS MONDAY

The Carmel post office will be doing business in its new building, Fifth Avenue and Dolores, beginning Monday, Oct. 22. Acting Postmaster Mollner told the SPECTATOR this week. The move from the old building is expected to be accomplished over this weekend.

An appeal has been made for all who can to pick up parcels at the postoffice window by Saturday in order to help make the move as smoothly as possible and minimize confusion at the new building Monday.

Mr. Mollner also reported, in response to a petition from residents of Carmel Valley, that it is in order to have their mail addressed to "Carmel Valley Route No. 2, Carmel."

LARGE SCHOOLROOM TO BE ADDED TO CARMEL WOODS SCHOOL

The Board of Trustees of Carmel Unified School District is proceeding with plans for a large schoolroom to be constructed at Carmel Woods School during the coming year to relieve congested and unsanitary conditions now existing.

At present one classroom is used for a cafeteria, principal's office, nurse's office, storage of teaching equipment and cafeteria supplies and disposition of garbage. It has been necessary to erect a tent for the nurse's use in conducting private physical examinations of students. There is no privacy for counselling or for conferences with parents.

The proposed large schoolroom is designed to provide one additional classroom and will be used for other school purposes. The existing room now used for a multitude of activities will become a new classroom, to be used for increased enrollment now being experienced in all schools.

It is anticipated that due to limited funds now available the interior of the schoolroom to be constructed will remain unfinished. Construction will probably be entirely of wood because of the unavailability of steel.

The project is planned for the Carmel Woods School instead of the proposed Carmel River School because of lower costs of construction. Site development, drainage, grading, playgrounds, fencing and landscaping have already been taken care of at the Woods School, which results in the

PLANS SET FOR CARMEL KIDS'

HALLOWE'EN PARTY SPONSORED BY KIWANIS

The Annual Children's Hallowe'en Party, attended by "tout Carmel," has become a red letter event through the efforts of Carmel's children, parents, teachers, and Kiwanis Club. The Club sponsors the party and its members defray all costs in an effort to make All Saints' Eve in Carmel a night of colorful merriment with costumes, parades, and prizes, rather than one of soaped or broken windows and subsequent ill-will and court action.

There will be a parade of the contestants for costume prizes at seven o'clock, Oct. 31. Each age group will vie for toys, and every participant will receive a gift. Dick Sumner, genial master of ceremonies, will direct the parade and the contest activities. Gene Harrah, general chairman, has just returned from a buying trip in the City laden with gifts and prizes. The Grand Prize is a very negotiable $25 Savings Bond.

Joe Gledhill heads the Sound and Music Committee and will provide all the necessary equipment. Harold Nielson is to furnish and dispense the refreshments: cider, popcorn, and candy. The prizes may be seen in the window of The House That Jack Built.

The schools will hold their own preview parades, and teachers are now helping the children prepare their creations. While witches and hobgoblins are still active and will undoubtedly send their most hideous representatives to Carmel, the imaginations of our small fry know no bounds, and it is anyone's guess what will appear at the party. Plan to come either to help, to participate, or just to watch and chuckle.

DR. HOUGHTON PRESENTS DETAILED EXPOSITION OF CHINESE WOODS, CABINETRY TO STUDY GROUP

The China Study Group of the World Affairs Council met this week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry S. Houghton of Carmel Highlands. Many Monterey Peninsula people are already familiar with Dr. Houghton's name in connection with the fascinating story of how "Dictionary Please" came into being.

The Houghtons lived 40 years in China and in spite of the demands of directing the Peking Union Medical College and raising their family they found time to explore and study (and obviously enjoy) the strange and fascinating life around them. They both speak Chinese, and with all the musical cadence and odd tempo changes that are so strikingly different from our own speech patterns.

Their insight and sensitivity and scholarly knowledge enabled them to bring together a very interesting collection of Chinese works of art and craftsmanship. Their lovely house and garden are a perfect setting for these pieces - far more enjoyable than a museum - as it is obvious that most of what one sees is in constant use, finding new life and function thousands of miles (and centuries even) from whence they came.

Dr. Houghton gave a pre-fatory talk on Chinese woods, wood carving, and cabinetry. He first discussed the various woods used, of which he had many examples. The fine pieces are in hard wood. These particular hard woods never have been native to China, but had to be imported from tropical forests such as exist in Sumatra, Java, and the Philippines. These all had to be sawed and planed by hand. This reporter had always marvelled at the intricate and painstaking work of Chinese wood carving, but it came as a shock to realize that even the shaping of great panels and table tops had to be sweated out the same way. After breaking your back, to have just another board doesn't seem much fun. One can halfway understand a couple of years of fussing over a lovely phoenix or dragon.

There is one hard wood native to China - the Chinese date palm. It is next to the hardest wood in the world - and heavy as iron. Dr. Houghton next discussed their arts of joining. In all their furniture the Chinese use no nails or screws. They dovetailed and glued pieces together. Sometimes this worked wonderfully if the design was right, but other times a little western ingenuity in the way of turnbuckle and screw and even wire (as discreetly applied by Dr. Houghton) help to continue the Chinese reputation for longevity.

One interesting aspect of how furniture can tell us much of ways of living, was brought out by one of the students who asked Dr. Houghton how many pieces of furniture, and of what nature, would be likely in the reception hall of a "great house" such as he had been describing. Dr. Houghton reflected for a while and then said that the furniture almost always came in pairs.

To the left of center as one entered the hall would be the place of honor for the host and most honored guest, two chairs and one table, of convenient height for tea; to the right the same - but less honorable - and so on, less and less honorably - around the room; a few wall paintings - and that's all. (I couldn't help but think of Steinberg and what a picture he could make of that.) This sitting in two's and in order of one's social importance in the eyes of one's host, brings to mind a picture of an extraordinary society. This is an all-male picture too, the women being relegated to back rooms or courtyards.

INDIAN BUSINESSMAN, UN DELEGATE SPEAKS HERE TUESDAY

Mr. Minoo R. Masani, prominent Indian businessman and Chairman of the United Nations Subcommittee on Discrimination and Minorities--a sub-body of the Human Rights Commission--is scheduled to arrive in San Francisco Sunday, according to an announcement from the Institute of International Education which is sponsoring a series of lectures on the West Coast by Mr. Masani.

In connection with UN Day, observed throughout the world on October 24, Mr. Masani will speak at Carmel's Sunset Auditorium next Tuesday at 8 p.m. on "India's Place in Asia and the World." Admission is free.

Local arrangements for this lecture are being made by a joint committee of the League of Women Voters, the World Affairs Council, the American Association of University Women and the Adult Evening School of Carmel.

Mr. Masani, ex-mayor of Bombay, is a Member of the Indian Parliament, and Presi-

'BUTTERFLY TREE'

HUNDREDS OF BUTTERFLIES (take our word for it) cling to this flowering eucalyptus tree, another of Carmel's horticultural features located at the northwest corner of 11th and Carmelo. According to Mr. Gene Watson, who lives at the site, the flock of butterflies stays for about two months, although there are some on the tree year round. (Polaroid one-minute picture).

FOOTBALL GAME TOMORROW NIGHT BENEFITS CHEST DRIVE

A football game has been added to what is fast becoming a lengthy list of benefits for the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest, whose annual fund-raising drive is now in progress.

Tomorrow evening, October 20, the Santa Maria Valley

Athletic Club team, semi-pros, will meet the Fort Ord Warriors in the Monterey Peninsula College stadium. The game will start at 8 p.m.

The stadium has 600 reserved seats at $1.80 (including tax) and 1872 general admission seats at $1.20 (including tax). A special section will be reserved for students, members of the military services and children, with tickets at 25 cents, purchasable at the gate. Reserved seats are on sale at Glennon's in Carmel. Blocks of seats for large parties or organizations may be reserved by calling 2-7111, Extension 2249 or 6131.

The Fort Ord Band will be present to make the occasion a gala one, and Military Police will police the stadium and parking area.

DATA ON 'CAL-VET' FINANCING CITED

More than 200,000 veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict have established their eligibility for "Cal-Vet" low-interest farm and home financing, according to Claude S. Estill, Veterans' Service Officer.

"There is no reason why every veteran in the Monterey Peninsula area who might qualify for this State benefit should not apply for a certificate at once," Mr. Estill added, "even if he does not intend to use it in buying a farm or home for years to come."

He pointed out that a "Cal-Vet" eligibility certificate may be particularly valuable to the veteran's family in case of his untimely death. State law provides that if he has established eligibility, his widow may succeed to it. If he has neglected to do so, there is no way in which she can benefit under the program.

The plan is available to veterans who were born in California or who were residents of this State at the time of entry into military service.

Application forms and additional information are available at 559 Pacific Street, Monterey.

How to make good telephone service even better....

Give your friends time to answer

How often have you had someone hang up just as you answered the telephone? It isn't always possible, you know, to get to the telephone the moment it rings—the folks you are calling may be out enjoying their garden, or busy in some distant part of the house.

You'll reach them more often... and avoid the disappointment of an incompleting call if you give them a full minute to answer.

faster Long Distance service is yours.

if you give the operator the out-of-town telephone number, rather than just the name and address of the party you are calling. You'll not only save your time... but calling by number means better service for everyone, especially now when long distance lines are carrying so many urgent industrial and military calls.

WHO IS IT?

(POLAROID One-Minute Photograph)

This is one of a series of photographs of residents you should know. All "Who Is It?" personalities are well-known residents of the Monterey Peninsula. For this week's answer turn to page 12.

APPEAL MADE FOR MORE BLOOD DONORS; MOBILE BLOOD BANK VISITS HERE THURSDAY

When the regional mobile blood bank visits the Monterey Peninsula next Thursday, October 25, Red Cross officials are hoping for a response from every qualified blood donor in the community.

The recent phase of the Korean War, involving "Heart-break Ridge" and a savage and prolonged hand-to-hand engagement, has created a new demand for blood plasma. U.S. forces in Korea are operating with only a seven day supply of plasma on hand. A large scale enemy offensive could easily deplete overseas stocks. The 165 pints of blood gathered at the civilian blood bank here on the Peninsula last month would just about fill the demands of one medical company for one fighting day in Korea.

Stockpiles in national blood banks are virtually depleted. A catastrophe or enemy attack at home would find the country helpless to save those who would need blood.

Contributions nationally expected to reach 300,000 pints a month have fallen to less than 50,000. A reserve of 2,800,000 pints of whole blood by July, 1952, is urgently asked by national officials. Donations on the Monterey Peninsula, including the military, should reach 2500 pints a month.

Call the Carmel Red Cross office, 7-6921, for your appointment. The mobile blood bank will be at the USO Building, Monterey, from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 25.

Attention is called to the fact that the donor must have no food except black coffee or fruit juice for three hours before the donation. Food will be provided after the donation.

PROTECT CHROME FINISH

It is advisable to keep the chrome finish on a new car coated with a heavy coat of wax, reminds the California State Automobile Association. At present, government restrictions limit manufacturers in their use of materials for chrome plating and in some instances the chrome coating on new cars is thinner and more susceptible to rust.

'THIS IS IT' IN BENEFIT PERFORMANCE TOMORROW FOR FORREST BARNES

Residents throughout the Peninsula learning that Forrest Barnes, local director and actor, has been stricken with polio, have all rallied to his support in every possible way. And most beautiful gesture of all has been the response of all the staff members and cast of THIS IS IT! (which was produced so successfully this September in Forest Theatre) who have volunteered to do their musical comedy as a special benefit performance for the Barnes family.

It is a tremendous cast and a tremendous undertaking to recall THIS IS IT! But the local teen-agers, college students, and participating adults have taken this opportunity to show their regard for Forrest and his wife who have won a particularly warm spot in the hearts of all those who know them and have worked with them.

Critically ill though he is, the overwhelming offers of aid in so many ways have been lending a special hand in his recovery and have made more bearable the very anxious and unhappy moments that his friends, his wife Evelyn, and three sons Timmy, David, and

Chris have been spending, waiting for word that he is out of danger, according to this week's announcement. To know that one is held in such deep regard by so many is as comforting as the assurance that one's family will be cared for.

Tickets for this special performance are on sale in Carmel at the Browse-Around Music Shop, at the booth by the post office, at the Carmel Hill Theatre evenings, in Monterey at Lial's and Abinante's, and at the box office Saturday night. Seats are priced at $1.80, no seats reserved, and special donation tickets at $1.50 may be purchased by those unable to attend but wishing to donate.

CARMEL CRAFTS GUILD TO MEET TONIGHT

President Joe Frame has announced the October meeting of Carmel Crafts Guild at Carmel Art Association Galleries will be held tonight, Oct. 19, at 8 p.m. Howard Hazeltine will present a recording of a lecture entitled "Artist and Society-Dual or Divorced," by Dr. Jacques Barzun of Columbia University. All members and their guests have been invited. Plans for American Art Week will be discussed; refreshments will be served.

EIGHT to the BAR

By ROSS WORSLEY

America's own opera, "Porgy and Bess," has been performed in its entirety and produced for Columbia records by Goddard Lieberson.

That "Porgy and Bess" is a masterpiece is generally conceded; George Gershwin would have been proud of and thrilled with the magnificent cast and Lehman Engel's expert direction of the orchestra in this top notch production of his tantalizing and persuasive score.

The leading singers, Lawrence Winters, Camilla Williams, Inez Matthews, Warren Coleman, and Avan Long do not outshine the very able supporting cast. Four stars for Columbia Recording Company for their fine achievement.

It would seem appropriate to mention another notable work, William Schuman's Symphony number three, which won the Walter W. Naumberg Foundation American Composition award in 1950. The Philadelphia orchestra, Eugene Ormandy in the podium, has given the work an accurate, colorful and discernible performance, available on one 12" Columbia long-playing record.

Structurally, the symphony has two major divisions, each of which are similarly divided. The four movements are passacaglia, fugue, chorale, and toccata. The formal patterns are loosely developed, the idiom is Schuman and modern. The work wears well, the orchestration is scholarly and arresting, the discs engineering good, which combine for excellent listening.

Lyrichord Discs Incorporated have turned out a first rate 12" long playing record which contains twelve operatic arias composed by Jean Baptiste Lully (1633-1687). The competent singers are Catherine Rowe, soprano, and Albert Linville, basso, an exciting discovery who makes his debut on this disc.

The twelve arias of this recording are selected from the best of the fifteen Lully operas. They were chosen not only for their beauty, but also because each of the twelve displays Lully's talent in a different light.

These gems of French operatic literature will delight almost everyone with their variety and sensitivity. The harpsichord accompaniments played by Achille Duvernoy are authentic interpretations, hence the ensemble is intimate and satisfying.

PEBBLE BEACH NOTES

Clear sunny days on the Monterey Peninsula are proving a lure for Bay area residents, many of whom are journeying to Pebble Beach for golf and relaxation.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger D.

Lapham, Jr., and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Whiting Martin, were weekend visitors at the Cypress Point Club, where they enjoyed playing that famous course.

Among those sojourning at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach, this weekend are: Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Andrews, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Peter Avenali, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Grant, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Murphy, and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Swinerton.

Also a visitor at Del Monte Lodge last week was Miss Dorothy Shay, who stopped there en route to Los Angeles after her successful engagement at the Mark Hopkins in San Francisco.

SERRA SCHOOL 'OPEN HOUSE' NOW SET FOR NOV. 18

Because of a mixup in dates, the "Open House" announced for Sunday, November 4, at the Serra School in Carmel, has been postponed to Sunday afternoon, November 18. American Education Week will be celebrated during the week of November 11, but as that is Armistice Day, Sister Superior and Mrs. Shelburn Robison, president of the Serra School Mothers' Club, have decided on Sunday afternoon, November 18, for the "Open House."

Following an inspection of the class rooms under supervision of the nuns, a program will be presented in Crespi Hall beginning at 2 o'clock. Master Leon Panetta will act as master of ceremonies. He will be recalled as the young musician who has received such acclaim for his extraordinary talents. Two plays will be given by the children, after which they will lead in singing "God Bless America."

The eight room mothers will act as hostesses in the serving of refreshments after the program.

All persons interested in the vital subject of sound American education have been cordially invited to attend.

Volunteers working for the Carmel Red Cross received awards and recognition for their faithful and generous service during the past year at a combined business meeting and volunteer service tea held last week at the Carmel Woman's Club.

With Mr. Frank Putnam, vice chairman of the Carmel Chapter, opening the business meeting, officers and board members for the coming year were elected, as recommended by the nominating committee, as follows: Chapter Chairman, Matthew C. Jenkins; Vice Chairman, Frank Putnam; Secretary, Mrs. Douglas Bradburn, and Treasurer, Thomas K. Perry.

Executive committee (three year term, one third of the members elected each year): Mrs. Douglas Bradburn, John Chitwood, and Mrs. William Arley Smith. To serve an unexpired term of two years - Andrew C. Wiemann. Re-elected to the Board of Governors for a second term of three years were Dr. Yvonne Champeaux, Miss Helen Heavey, Jack Laughlin, Fred Mylar, Mrs. Carl Rohr, Mrs. Kip Silvey, Mrs. Lloyd Tevis, Mrs. Sidney Trevvett, Mrs. Edwin Tucker and Andrew C. Wiemann. New members of the Board of Governors elected were: Comdr. Charles H. Ashley, John K. Caldwell, Mrs. Ray Draper, Dr. Edward McCormick, Carl Patnude, Mrs. Mark Raggett and Mrs. Robert Stanton.

Service chairmen introduced and commended for their work were Miss Helen Heavey, capable chairman of the blood program; Thomas K. Perry, fund drive chairman; Mrs. Horace Dormody, home nursing; Mrs. Ernest Morehouse, home service; Mrs. William Arley Smith, Junior Red Cross; Commander John S. Chitwood, disaster; Fred Mylar, ambulance service, and Andrew C. Wiemann, safety services.

A report on the summer training camp for Junior Red Cross members at Bluff Lake, given by the Junior Red Cross president, Miss Jane Lowrey, was enthusiastically received.

Mr. Paul Olson, American Red Cross Field Director at Fort Ord, introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Captain E. C. Fletcher, staff officer in Intelligence at Fort Ord, whose talk on "Korea - One Year of Undeclared War" was an enlightening review of the past year's effort by the United Nations in their fight to prevent aggression. Captain Fletcher termed it a "psychological gain." He praised highly the work done by the Red Cross in connection with troop needs in Korea and with the desperate plight of the South Korean populace.

Mrs. Frank Moller, volunteer services chairman, after receiving from Mr. Putnam the award of recognition for her past year's inspired leadership, introduced the chairman of each volunteer service, who in turn presented her workers with their service pins and stripes.

An example of the increase in demand for nurses' aides at the blood centers was outlined by Mrs. Paul Low, chairman of nurses' aides. She said that the original blood program consisted of one day a month with 50 donors during the hours of 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. At the present time Fort Ord alone has a program of seven days a month and the hours are from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. A total of 10 nurses' aides were awarded stripes for 50 hours or more of service in the past fiscal year. Receiving their 10 year service pins were Mrs. Norman Smith, Mrs. William Coughlin and Mrs. Gertrude Haaren.

Mrs. Isabelle Terhune, chairman of Gray Ladies, herself received a 10 year pin and in turn presented Mrs. Donald Whitmer with a 10 year award, Mrs. John Watson with a five year pin and 13 others with one year stripes. Mrs. Terhune stressed the need for more Gray Ladies to enable her to provide the quota of 13 workers for each Tuesday and Thursday at Fort Ord Hospital.

Mrs. James Doud made a plea for more staff aides to work at the Blood Bank registration desks and for supplemental work with the nurses and nurses' aides in the blood rooms. As chairman of staff aides she presented Mrs. Howard Monroe with a five year pin and a total of 32 with service stripes for their 50 hours of service in the past year.

Mrs. Fred Godwin, chairman of the newly organized motor corps, and her co-chairman, Mrs. Ray Draper, were praised by Mrs. Moller for the speed and efficiency with which the group of 25 volunteers were secured for the training classes now in session.

Chairman of entertainment and instruction, Mrs. Rush R. Wallace, was represented by Mrs. Carol McKenny, who gave the award to Miss Hazel McClellan for a regular Monday evening program of entertainment at Fort Ord Hospital, and to Miss Anne Flynn and Miss Donna Philips who assisted her.

In the absence of Mrs. Howard Smith, production chairman, Mrs. W. B. Williams presented a report on work accomplished and completed in the production room and gave service recognition awards to 32 regular workers, including a five year pin to Mrs. Chapel Judson and a ten year pin to Mrs. E. A. H. Watson. Exhibits of hand and machine work produced in the work room were on display.

Service stripes were also awarded by Mrs. Moller to those who assisted in the administration of the above programs, as well as a ten year pin to Miss Helen Heavey, chairman of the Blood Program.

At the conclusion of the meeting, tea was served at tables decorated in Red Cross colors, red and white candles surrounding lavish arrangements of white hydrangeas, dahlias and Marconi daisies. Mrs. Gerrit Henry was responsible for the table decorations and Mrs. Roy Page was in charge of arrangements. At the tea tables Mrs. Rush R. Wallace, Mrs. Lena De Guiscard, Mrs. Sidney Trevvett and Miss Kathryn Bier presided, and members of the Junior Red Cross Council of Carmel High School assisted in serving. Use of the club rooms was generously donated by the Carmel Woman's Club.

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S WHO IS IT?

This week's subject was interviewed from a barber's chair. He is George Falcon, who claims to be the oldest barber in Carmel. He has been cutting hair for 42 years. If he had kept all of his clippings he would be able to fill enough hair mattresses for all the fourth rate hotels in San Francisco.

He came to Carmel in 1934 but almost didn't stay. It was during the depression, of course. Business was dead, people were moving out rather than in, and George came within a hair of starving like any artist of that period. However he stuck it out and now has been barbering in the same location on San Carlos Street for 15 years.

George looks back over these years of ear lifting with pride and satisfaction. He recommends it to young men choosing an occupation from the arts. "Any young man with an inclination to be an artist would make a good barber," said George. "And probably more money also."

This brought a logical question to mind. What if the young man was artistically inclined toward the modern progressive school--an abstractionist for instance?

George paused thoughtfully, picturing a Picasso trim.

"I don't go much for modern art," he confided. "But I have given modern art haircuts. Matter of fact, gave one the other day. A Hollywood fella. Cut his hair long over the ears and crewcut on top. Kinda like Crewy Lou. I didn't think much of it."

At this point a gentleman in the third chair broke in. "That's the way I wear mine."

The man who spoke had a fine tanned scalp with a handsome fringe of long, carefully combed and trimmed hair over the ears. The subject was changed.

George was asked about the early barbering days. He admitted they'd changed a good deal. "I used to cut hair for 15 cents--25 cents top price. Many's the shave I've given for a dime." He shook his head. "I never get calls for shaves any more."

During years of barbering in Los Angeles, Lake Tahoe, San Diego, San Francisco, and old Hotel Del Monte many famous heads have come under George's shears. He can't remember them all, but a few of them are Ronald Coleman, the Sultan of Jahore, Darrel Zanut, the Bing Crosby family.

His strangest request for a haircut came not too long ago. A youngster came in and asked for a Mohawk injun-style haircut. The artist in George rebelled. He refused. "Besides, his ma probably would have scalped me," he added.

Asked for a listing of barber chair manners, George named the following:

1. Sit up straight.
2. Hold still.
3. Quit turning pages in a magazine.
4. Tell the barber what you want, then let him do it.

'FOR READERS ONLY'
REVIEWED AT CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB

At the Book Section of the Carmel Woman's Club this week Chairman Mrs. E. M. Seifert introduced the speaker, Mrs. H. S. Upjohn, who cleverly reviewed "For Readers Only" by J. Penn. This book is an amusing account of the author's observations day-by-day in the reading room of the British Museum.

Mrs. Upjohn then reviewed "Forty Years in a Book Shop" and told many interesting anecdotes of Mr. Spencer's experiences in London in selling first editions and manuscripts of Robert Louis Stevenson and Charles Dickens. The program concluded with readings from "Fred Bason's Diary."

Tea was in charge of Mrs. E. L. Poyer assisted by Mrs.

John D. Gates and Mrs. Keith Evans. The table was attractively decorated with dahlias and petunias of the fuchsia shades. Mrs. Anne Knox and Mrs. Harriett Hebard poured.

The Flower Section on Oct. 22 will be sponsored by Mrs. E. T. Patee who has invited Mr. James S. Kerr of the Kerr-Langen Seed Co. of San Mateo to speak on "Fall Planting and Spraying." Mr. Kerr is well known on the peninsula.

Sawyer, Mrs. John Watson, Miss Flora Stewart, Mrs. Frances Hudgins, Mrs. Francis Foraker, and Mrs. Barbara Murphy.

COMMUNITY CHEST

RETURNS ENCOURAGING

Collections for the Community Chest Drive as of Wednesday morning totalled $22,485.

Returns from Carmel were declared encouraging and indicative that a lot of new people in the area are contributing and that Carmel will go well over the top.

TO HONOR CARMEL MARTIN

In recognition of distinguished services rendered the community, a dinner will be given for Carmel Martin Monday evening, October 22, at the Hunt Club in the Fairgrounds, according to an announcement this week.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the event includes Mr. Corum Jackson, Mr. James van Loben Sels, Mr. Charles Olmstead and Judge Henry G. Jorgenson. All residents of the Peninsula have been invited to participate. The price is five dollars and should be forwarded to Mr. Wesley W. Kergan, Box 150, Carmel.

CARMEL RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION ANNOUNCED

Application forms are now available at the Carmel Post Office from Fred G. Strong, secretary of the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners, for the examination to fill the post of rural carrier. The examination will be held in Carmel and applications must be on file with the Commission in Washington, D.C., prior to the close of business November 1, 1951.

On a standard daily route of 30 miles, the salary of a rural carrier is $2,758, with $20.00 per year additional for each mile or major fraction in excess thereof. Salaries on shorter routes or routes with less frequent service are proportionately less.

All rural carriers must furnish and maintain, at their own expense, "sufficient vehicle equipment for the prompt handling of the mails." They are allowed an equipment maintenance of 8¢ per mile on the basis of the daily mileage.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

The Monterey Peninsula Garden Club will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight, October 19, in the Pacific Grove Civic Club House. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock sharp, with door prizes first on the agenda.

Mrs. H. N. Hansen of Lafayette, the well-known grower of African violets, will be the speaker.

ALL SAINTS' CHRISTMAS BAZAAR OPENS NOVEMBER 15

The annual Christmas Bazaar will open at 10 a.m. on November 15 at the Parish Hall of All Saints' Church, Carmel, with Mrs. Henry I. Raymond and Mrs. Philip G. Preble as co-chairmen. An extensive display of articles for Christmas gift giving will be presented, including Christmas decorations of all kinds, aprons, leather book covers, etc.

KEEP WHEELS BALANCED

Less than one ounce of unbalance in a car wheel will create several pounds of vibrating force at high speed, reports the California State Automobile Association. Wheels that are badly out of balance may cause eventual breakage of vital parts in the steering control mechanism.

LAFF-A-DAY

"I TOLD you he was a tough kid, Pop!"

EILEEN FARRELL OCT. 23 PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

A truly great dramatic soprano, Eileen Farrell, will be presented Tuesday, Oct. 23, in the Pacific Grove High School Auditorium, by the Monterey Peninsula Community Concert Association.

In addition to Miss Farrell's brilliant singing, the audience will have the opportunity of hearing several solos by Stevenson Barrett, who accompanies Miss Farrell.

Her program for the evening's concert, will include the following selections:

My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair (Haydn); Think on Me (Alicia Ann Scott); Aria-Divinites du Styx, from "Alceste" (Gluck);

In Waldeseinsamkeit (Brahms); Botschaft (Brahms); The Swan (Greig); A Dream (Greig);

Aria-Pace, pace, mio Dio, from "La Forza del Destino" (Verdi);

- INTERMISSION -

Prelude (Kittel-Bauer); Impromptu (Schubert); Capriccio (Dohnanyi), played by Mr. Stevenson Barrett.

To the Children, and Floods of Spring (Rachmaninoff); C'est l'extase langoureuse (Debussy); Noel des enfants qui n'ont plus des maisons (Debussy);

The Lamb (Shaw); Kerry Dance (Molloy); Psalm 137 (Wilder); There Shall Be More Joy (Nordoff); Sing to me, Sing (Homer).

Along with her concert tour in the 1951-52 season, she will sing with the Cincinnati, Baltimore and other symphonies. She will also appear with the Los Angeles Philharmonic in two performances of Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis."

The concert here will be for members only and no single admissions will be sold. The doors open at 7:30 and the curtain goes up at 8:15 p.m.

PLAYING THE PERCENTAGES

It's all right to play the percentages when you're at the race track betting on the horses but don't play the percentages when you drive. The California State Automobile Association warns that too many drivers assume that all other motorists will do the right thing most of the time but accident reports prove this to be wrong.
